Client News

June 24, 2026

Gunderson Dettmer represented Caplight Technologies in its $16 million Series A financing. The round was led by BlackRock and Fin Capital with strategic participation from UBS Investment Bank.

Caplight is building data and transaction infrastructure for venture capital by combining proprietary private company data with a marketplace that connects investors and broker-dealers to enable secondary market liquidity. The new capital will fuel expansion across private market data and agentic workflows for research and transactions.

“Transparency unlocks private markets for institutional investors,” said Javier Avalos, CEO of Caplight, in the announcement of the transaction. “We give the world’s best investors the data they need to understand the venture market and the infrastructure to participate in it. In an age where proprietary data is at a premium, we’re proud to be their source of truth.”

The Gunderson deal team was led by Valerie Wood and included Erica Davis, Lawrence Ho, Eric Peshkin, AJ Wilson, and Sam Lala.
